

Women of CT Post #2

Leaving two of her adult children behind in Colombia, Maria came to Canada alone to reunite with her husband at the time. Maria has enjoyed making friends and developing her own system of support with other immigrant women from all over the world through Changing Together's English classes. Despite the separation from her children, Changing Together has provided Maria with a second family, a family that has uplifted and cultivated her self-confidence. Maria has never missed a day of class and hopes to become fluent enough in English to sponsor her children and grandchildren's immigration to Canada.
